See You At The Pole Live, September 26th!

See You At The Pole Live is in its 12th year on WRGN, and we are looking forward to another great year as we talk to students at their school flagpoles on the air.

This global day of student prayer, began in 1990 as a grass roots movement with ten students praying at a school in Texas. Twenty-two years later, millions pray on their campuses on the fourth Wednesday in September.

A pre-rally for the event will be held Sunday, September 23rd, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Camp Orchard Hill in Dallas.

The 2012 See You at the Pole theme is Awaken and the Scripture is Ephesians 3:14-21 "For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father... I pray that out of his glorious riches He may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being so that Christ may dwell in your hearts... And I pray that you... grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and... that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God. Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine..."

Join us for this very special radio event on Wednesday, September 26th from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. on WRGN!

Here at the studios

August got off to a great start for our favorite DJ's, Tim and Jonathan, when they realized it was "Hug a DeeJay Day." When wives, Heather and Johanna, arrived, they were greeted with great big hugs. You can check out the pictures at www.facebook.com/wrgnfm.

Jonathan held down the "DJ" fort when Tim went backpacking with his daughter, Rachel, in the Adirondacks before she headed to college. He successfully hiked the tallest mountain in New York state, Mt. Marcy, which has an interesting history. It's where then Vice-President Theodore Roosevelt was hiking when he found out that President McKinley had died.

Connect Live! is always a fun time here at the studios when we connect with our listeners both here in Northeastern Pennsylvania and in the West Indies. We heard from a new caller from the French side of St. Martin. She had been visiting family in St. Thomas and heard the station and when she returned to St. Martin began listening over the Internet. We also heard from Melissa from St. Croix who will be starting school in Indiana. She is hoping to visit the WRGN studios as she has a sister in the State College area, only two hours from where we are. We hope we get to meet her!

Our listeners in the Virgin Islands were thankful that Tropical Storm Isaac spared the island of damage but they were thankful for the rain that they received so that it filled their cisterns with a much needed resource.

Our Meet-the-Authors event was a great evening as we hosted authors Karen Morgan and Ruth Joy Capozzi. They both shared from their hearts and ministered to those who were present that evening. It was great to see groups of people talking, laughing and praying with each other after the event.

We are so thankful for the blessings due to the list in last month's Radiogram. The very next day after it was mailed we received a phone call from a faithful WRGN listener who said she had a color laser printer that her late husband had used in his home office. We also received a call from a gentleman who wanted to pay for a new rug for the WRGN entrance way. A check arrived in the mail and was designated for our "Needs List!" Thank you for your response! We at WRGN are overwhelmed at how God uses His people to bless.

Speaking of blessings, Judie became a grandmother again for the second time! From the pictures we've seen, she is beautiful and we can't wait until she comes to visit Oma at the WRGN studios! We hope that you too will come visit us at WRGN!

Bookstore an Outreach

WRGN listener Scott Walters came into the studio this month looking for our used bookstore. He went away with a stack of books to use as an outreach. Great idea, Scott!

New at the Library

Back-to-School! Now is the time to visit the Good News Library to view all of the resources it has to offer. If your student is looking for material from which to write a book report, the Good News Library has it.

Heads Up! Sports Devotions for All-Star Kids combines biblical principles with stories of athletes and sporting events, fun sports trivia, tips, and rare facts. Each day's thought includes a "Game Plan" memory verse, a "Playbook Assignment" Scripture reading, "Instant Replay" life application questions, and "On the Chalkboard" final thoughts that bring everything together. This unique devotional is great for reluctant readers and is sure to inspire young players and sports fanatics.

Author Josh McDowell has authored or coauthored more than 130 books including the classic Evidence that Demands a Verdict. Along with his son, Sean, McDowell has identified the most frequently asked questions, and through extensive research and insight they provide answers as they tackle tough questions raised by today's skeptics. Their book 77 FAQs About God and the Bible is a new addition to the Good News Library.

With all of the different roles women have to assume these days, their lives can often feel frantic and a little stressed. Emily Smith's new book Where's the Nearest Day Spa? – Renewing the Anxious Heart is a good read if you're desperately seeking peace and calm for your world. Discover how looking to God for the R&R you need is so much better than even a trip to the day spa! Readers will be challenged and encouraged to view their worries and fears from a different perspective. This insightful and often humorous look at life will inspire you to walk in the freedom of the God who made you!

One way to help us through the stress of life is to study God's Word and Karol Ladd's new book Unfailing Love – A Woman's Walk Through 1 John can help you do just that. In this insightful journey through 1 John, Ladd invites readers to experience the reality of God's generous love. As you begin to grasp its height and depth, you'll be transformed to see yourself and your circumstances in a fresh new light.

It's not too late to read a work of fiction and Veil of Pearls by MaryLu Tyndall may be just the one. The year is 1811 and the setting is the prosperous port city of Charleston with plantation owners, slaves, and immigrants. Adalia has a secret: her light skin belies that she is part black and a runaway slave from Barbados. Skilled in herbal remedies, she finds employment with a local doctor and settles into a quiet life, thankful for her freedom but still fearful that her owner will find her. When a gentleman born into one of Charleston's prominent families pursues Adalia, his persistence pays off and she is swept into the glamorous world of Charleston's high society. Her new life comes at a high price – that of denying her heritage and her zeal for God. When her secret is revealed, will love be enough or will the truth send her back into slavery?

The Good News Library is open weekdays from 9:00 – 4:30. Check out all of the resources at www.wrgn.com

Quick response is a BIG Blessing

One day after the RadioGram went out with our new feature, I received a phone call from one of our listeners/readers, saying “I have a color laser printer and some other office supplies if you can use them.” Why am I surprised when God meets our needs? It’s been a big faith builder, especially when that phone call was followed up by another listener who wanted to purchase an entry mat for the studios. The Current Needs/Recent Blessings feature will continue on an “as needed” basis, and since there are still a few needs to be met, here’s where we stand!

Tim

From us to you...

September 2012

To the WRGN listening family,

Heather and I recently returned from South Carolina after dropping off two of our daughters at college. Besides the house being a little quieter (we still have one at home) we have also begun to realize the things we relied on them for that we now need to do ourselves. It makes us appreciate and miss them even more.

We are talking to them frequently on the phone, encouraging them in many ways to step out of their comfort zone with new experiences and challenges. God sometimes calls us to the same thing. I think of Moses, confronted by God in the burning bush, called to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt. Called to this challenge, he hesitates, refuses, then finally answers the call with God's promise to be with him. That step of faith took him WAY out of his comfort zone!

What has God called you to? Are you doing it, or are you hesitating because of fear? It's only natural to question our ability to accomplish something, especially if we are doing it in our own strength. The book of Thessalonians is full of exhortations to believers, things that God has called us to do, some of which may seem impossible! However, it ends with the promise in 1 Thessalonians 5:24, *He who calls you is faithful, who also will do it.

As we move towards the end of the year, we recount God's blessings (some of them listed on the facing page), recall His faithfulness in the past, and we look forward to being used to do His work in the ministry of WRGN. We are ever mindful that we could not do it without your support and the strength that comes from the Lord!

We appreciate you and your prayers! (1 Thessalonians 5:25)
